PRIMARY INTEGRATION SOLUTIONS OPENS DUBLIN, IRELAND OFFICE

Offers Comprehensive Third Party Commissioning and Operational Risk Management Consulting Services

DUBLIN, IRELAND — July 27, 2015 – Primary Integration Solutions, a leading mission critical facilities/data center global commissioning and operational risk management consulting organization, has opened a new office in Dublin, Ireland under the direction of Terry Gillick, who is serving as the Division President for the company.

The office is offering comprehensive third party, independent commissioning and operational risk management consulting services to owners and builders of high tech facilities, data centers and other mission critical facilities in Ireland and throughout Europe.

“By establishing a footprint in Ireland, Primary Integration is in a position to offer global commissioning and operations consulting solutions to our domestic clients, and to service new clients that are based in Europe,” commented Shawn Till, CEO of Primary Integration Solutions. “We are excited to join the community of global service providers in the mission critical space. It is an exciting time in our industry, and we are proud to be able to help our clients grow their infrastructure both domestically and abroad.”

Terry Gillick is responsible for spearheading the company's Dublin operations, serving as a point of expertise, authority, and leadership for Primary Integration's operations and long-range vision. Mr. Gillick has over 25 years of experience working with data center and mission critical facility owners on major development and construction projects.

An international mission critical facilities/data center commissioning firm headquartered in Charlotte, North Carolina with offices across the US, Europe and Canada, Primary Integration Solutions is a subsidiary of Primary Integration (PI), a mission critical commissioning and operational risk management consulting services organization.
